

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

spective of whether the title which later passed by the sentence of condemnation related back to that time. Andersen v. Marten, 24 T. L. R. 208 (Eng., Ct. App., Dec. 18, 1907).

For a criticism of the fiction of relation of title on which the case was decided in the lower court, see 21 HARV. L. REV. 55.

BANKRUPTCY — POWERS AND DUTIES OF TRUSTEE — LIABILITY FOR NEGLIGENT FAILURE TO COLLECT OUTSTANDING ASSET. — A trustee in bankruptcy neglected to prosecute a disputed claim to goods of the bankrupt in the possession of another. A creditor excepted on this ground to the trustee's final account. Held, that the trustee, if found negligent, may be charged with the value of the goods. In re Reinboth, 157 Fed. 672 (C. C. A., Second Circ.).

The National Bankruptcy Act makes no express provision for charging a trustee for negligence. His neglect may be cause for removal or for withholding compensation. In re Morse, Fed. Cas. No. 9852; see In re Newcomb, 32 Fed. 826. And he is liable for loss to the estate caused by his negligent management. In re Newcomb, supra. His liability for negligently failing to get in an asset does not seem to have been passed upon before in this country; but such liability would naturally result from his duty to collect the property of the estate, under § 47a (2) of the Act. An English case, on similar facts, reaches the same result as the present decision. Ex parte Ogle, L. R. 8 Ch. 711. Moreover an administrator, or a trustee under a settlement, is liable for assets of the estate which he does not use ordinary diligence to collect. Tuttle v. Robinson, 33 N. H. 104; Speakman v. Tatem, 48 N. J. Eq. 136. A trustee in bankruptcy should be required to exercise a like degree of care. See Speakman v. Tatem, supra.

BANKRUPTCY — PROPERTY PASSING TO TRUSTEE — TRUSTEE'S RIGHT IN PROPERTY OF BANKRUPT SOLD FOR TAXES BEFORE ADJUDICATION — Before adjudication property of a bankrupt was sold for taxes. After the statutory period a deed was given without applying to the bankruptcy court or joining the trustee. Held, that the deed is void. In re Epstein, 156 Fed. 42 (C. C. A., Eighth Circ.).

If property has been put into a receivership, a tax deed thereof, though for taxes previously accruing, is void unless issued with the sanction of the court appointing the receiver. Johnson v. Southern Building Ass'n, 132 Fed. 540. But a master's deed, given in foreclosure proceedings instituted before the mortgagor became bankrupt, is good. Eyster v. Gaff, 91 U. S. 521. And if a pledgor gives the pledgee power to sell without notice and to buy himself, the pledgee may enforce it according to its terms, after the pledgor has been adjudicated bankrupt. In re Mertens, 144 Fed. 818. Neither the pledgee nor the mortgagee need apply to the bankruptcy court or join the trustee. In the present case it would seem that the court relied upon the cases as to receiverships and disregarded the closely analogous cases of the preëxisting mortgage or pledge of a bankrupt's property. A receiver has very broad powers and is appointed not merely to collect and distribute assets, but also to carry on the business; and a distinction seems possible between tax deeds of property in his control and of property in the hands of a trustee in bankruptcy.

BILLS AND NOTES — NEGOTIABILITY — "PAYABLE ABSOLUTELY." — The defendant, a joint-stock company, issued coupon bonds payable out of the assets of the association, the stockholders, however, to be free from liability upon them. Held, that the bonds are not non-negotiable as being payable only out of a particular fund. Hibbs v. Brown, 190 N. Y. 167.

For a discussion of this case in the lower court, see 19 HARV. L. REV. 616.

CARRIERS — CUSTODY AND CONTROL OF GOODS — LIABILITY OF CARRIER TRANSPORTING DANGEROUS ANIMALS. — The defendant was transporting trained bears in one of his steamboats. Before delivery to the consignee the plaintiff, while lawfully on the defendant's dock, was injured by one of the